DOMESTIC CONCERNs.

—Keep salad, lettuce, endive, celery, etc., in ice-cold water after preparing it for the table until you are ready to serve it.

—Water Crackers: One pound flour, one pound of soda, one tablespoonful of lard. Mix with sweet milk, beat well, roll out thinly, and bake in a quick oven.

—Potato Funn: Roll four good-sized potatoes, mash and sift through a sieve; add one and one-half pints of flour, two teaspoonsfuls of baking powder, one pint of cream or milk, form in small cakes and bake in a greased tin.

—Jewelry can be beautifully cleaned by washing in soap-suds, in which a few drops of spirits of ammonia are stirred, shaking off the water and laying in a box of dry sawdust. This method leaves no marks or scratches.

—Cocoonat Charolte Russe: One half pound of desiccated cocoonat soaked in hot milk, one hour mash the pulp and strain it; dissolve in the milk one teaspoonful of gelatine; beat one pint of cream until stiff, and add to the gelatine and cream until it becomes gel. Also five tablespousfuls of sugar, cover with a thin layer of sponge-cake and set away until perfectly cold—Boston Herald.

—Early Cabbage: Cut a firm head of summer cabbage in slices, put in a sauceron with boiling water, let boil fifteen minutes, drain off the water, and make a dressing of half a pint of vinegar, an ounce of sugar, a teaspoonful of salt, a pinch of cayenne pepper, a teaspoonful of made mustard and one tablespoonful of salad oil; set on the fire, let boil, add a teaspoonful of cream and one beaten egg. Mix the cabbage in the hot dressing and boil five minutes.—Ladies' Home Journal.

—Scotch Eggs: These are good either hot or cold. Cook one-third cupful of hard-boiled eggs in one-third cupful of milk until it is pasted; then mix with one cupful of chopped ham, one-half teaspoonful of mixed mustard, and a little cayenne in one raw egg; cover six hard-boiled eggs with this mixture (to be done smooth and nice, must use the hands) then fry in hot fat two minutes, cut in halves and serve on a bed of parsley.—The Home Journal.

—Sausage: These are good either hot or cold. Cook one-third cupful of hard-boiled eggs in one-third cupful of milk until it is pasted; then mix with one cupful of chopped ham, one-half teaspoonful of mixed mustard, and a little cayenne in one raw egg; cover six hard-boiled eggs with this mixture (to be done smooth and nice, must use the hands) then fry in hot fat two minutes, cut in halves and serve on a bed of parsley.—The Home Journal.

—Lilies of the valley are favorite flowers with all, and a good bed of them is highly desirable in any doorway. To get the best bloom from them they should be planted out where they are to remain for some years, as they are very impatient of transplanting.

The ground should be finely-mulched and a portion of the leaf-mold well spaded in before the pots are set in the bed prepared for them.—Christian at Work.

—Rice Cream: Roll two ounces of fine rice in water for five minutes, strain and add to it one cupful of cream. Roll the rice through a sieve, then add to it the milk not absorbed in the sieve. Add a ounce of gelatine to a pint of the rice and milk. The gelatine can be soaked and dissolved either in milk or water. Stir over the fire until mixed, sweeten and flavor to taste. Stir the cream on occasionally until cold. Lightly mix the whites of two eggs beaten to a strong froth; at the point of setting put it into mold.—Good Housekeeping.

—A GOOD FORAGE CROP.

Testimony to the Value of the Soja Bean as a Forage Crop.

As a forage crop for poor, thin, worn out land in South Missouri, where dry weather, bugs and pests interfere with crop raising, nothing can beat soja beans. Not only is it a crop, exceeding forage value in the quality of feed, or quantity. They are not a vine, but grow as upright as the cotton plant. The pods are short and thick, the biting pods, but stuck on like bananas on the stalk in a most beautiful manner. Dry weather seems to delight the plants, as they never show the least effects of any hot weather. The cause of this is in the fact that the pods run straight down deep into the ground. The harvesting and sowing is the great trouble in this crop. They are very difficult to cure. All with the cow peers we pulled them up by hand. I will swear to this and hesitate to say it was a killing job never repeated again. If they had been utilized as well as the mowing machine could have been used, it would have been better. They need to be stacked under a roof and on scaffolds, so the ventilation is good. I should

DOCTORING THE BLOOD.

Some Excellent and Timely Advice on an Important Subject.

Few notions are more common among the ailing than that their blood is impure and needs doctoring. Hence the numberless domestic dosings, especially in spring. This notion is a mine of wealth to quacks and nostrum vendors.

"Purify the blood!" cries the pill-maker, and the cry never fails of a ready response from scores of thousands.

It is true the blood is liable to many disengaging conditions, some of them of the gravest character. But such conditions are just to be got rid of, unassisted by quacks.

When blood-letting is resorted to, the patient looks with satisfaction at dark blood in the bowl; its color was proof to him of its impurity. His little considered that venous blood is always dark, and that, if the doctor had let him bleed to death, the last drop would have been of the same color.

No doubt there is often an impure condition of the blood which some simple remedy may, in part, correct. Habitual over-eating may give rise to more nutritive material in the system than the system can assimilate. The eliminating organs in their effort to get rid of it become overworked and enfeebled, and thus fail to perform even their normal functions.

The liver is congested; the poisoned brain, the heart, less nervous force to the minister of the system, the mind becomes dull, and the spirit fails. In such a condition of things, a cathartic frequently works wonders, especially if followed by a partial fast for a day or two. But how much wiser it would have been to avoid this wretched "biliousness" by a proper care of the diet!

"Biliousness," so-called, is especially common in spring, the trouble being that people still continue to eat as much as they did in the bracing cold of winter. The relaxing weather would do us no harm if we would graduate our food accordingly. Indeed, the inspiring influences of the season would give a new uplift to health and spirits.

Constipation is another source of impure blood, the noxious waste elements being resorbed into the circulation. Where it exists it must be moved. But hardly any thing can be moved so easily, but all rather proud that they are able to refute the saying once so frequently heard, but now rapidly falling into disuse.—Boston Advertiser.

—Sausage: These are good either hot or cold. Cook one-third cupful of hard-boiled eggs in one-third cupful of milk until it is pasted; then mix with one cupful of chopped ham, one-half teaspoonful of mixed mustard, and a little cayenne in one raw egg; cover six hard-boiled eggs with this mixture (to be done smooth and nice, must use the hands) then fry in hot fat two minutes, cut in halves and serve on a bed of parsley.—The Home Journal.

Part of section 14, Registration Law:

"At the said election no vote shall be received unless the person offering to vote is on the registry provided in this act, and if his vote be challenged by an officer of the election, or by a bystander, unless he exhibit to the officers of the election the certificate of registration issued to him in accordance with the requirements of section twelve and thirteen of this act. Provided, however, that any person whose name is properly recorded on the registry provided by this act, and who has lost his certificate of registration, shall be allowed to vote after he shall have been sworn by one of the judges of the election and shall have taken and signed an oath that he has lost his certificate of registration and that said certificate has not passed into the hands of another person with his knowledge or consent."

So far as the KENTUCKIAN is concerned the campaign is closed. The next issue will convey to the people the news of victory or defeat. Unless we underestimate the mood of standing of a majority of the voters of Christian county, the "Big Four" ticket is doomed to defeat. A majority of the people may go on record as endorsing dishonesty in its most despicable form, but we will not believe it until it is done. If honesty is to prevail, if corruption is to be condemned, if the most audacious gang of criminals ever permitted to run at large are to be convicted or driven out of the county, if the people are to anticipate the work to be done by the next grand jury and if the standing of Christian county as a law-abiding community is to be maintained, then honest men must be elected next Monday.

More than one colored man from Christian county, who was driven by actual want to steal something to eat, is now serving a term in the State prison, and yet their crimes are the essence of purity compared to the systematic stealing that prevailed in the sheriff's office during the recent season of corruption. The thief who can sit down at a table with a cool head, a steady nerve and a guilty conscience and deliberately rob and pilfer from widows, orphans, poor and needy old men and even from the dead, is the meanest and most infamous thief who ever disgraced a law-abiding community with his slimy presence.

The indications point to the election of Dr. Clardy, the Farmer's candidate for Delegate, by an overwhelming majority. He has made a splendid canvass, going to every district in the county and his excellent speeches have gained new supporters for him wherever he has been. In him the county will have an able and a creditable Delegate and the agricultural interests of the whole State will have an intelligent, well-informed champion, who is not only a good farmer but a careful and safe business man.

Judges of election should satisfy themselves in every case that the voter presenting a certificate is the same one who registered. It is known that frauds will be attempted by putting the certificates of dead men or those who have gone away into the hands of floaters with the view of voting them for the Republican ticket. Watch every point all day long. Eternal vigilance is the price of victory.

If any man in Christian county holding other people's money in trust, records his vote for Boyd next Monday, his accounts should at once be investigated. There is something radically wrong with the moral character of any man who endorses such conduct as the Republican party is trying to defend.

Government (same day).

We desire to call the attention of the teachers of the county to the fact that the law is imperative, and demands that each teacher attend the institute. A failure to do so, without a reasonable excuse, subjects the one failing to attend to the penalty of having his license or certificate to teach revoked.

It is therefore earnestly hoped that every teacher in the county will be present. The conductor will see to it that the subjects are not forced. In the programme, receive their due share of attention, and that the teachers receive valuable and practical suggestions which will greatly aid them in their work. We will make the best possible arrangements for the accommodation of all who attend.

The ladies of the Christian church will have a church social at Mrs. Durrett's this evening. Ices 10 cents with cake.

Cheering news continues to come in from every section of the county and Democrats are daily growing more confident.

Mrs. Dill's young trotter, Simon-Colon, trained by P. H. McNauly, won a $2,000 purse at Cleveland, O. this week in 2:19.

The last county appointment will be at Pool's Store, to-morrow at 10 o'clock. The majority from Bainbridge promises to be overwhelming.

The 150 colored voters from Alabama expected last Monday did not materialize and the supplemental registration was a great disappointment to the Republicans.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Russell gave an entertainment last evening in honor of their guest, Miss Alice Hanna, of Denison, Tex., which was a very respect one of the most elegant affairs of the season.

O. S. Brown who left the city three weeks ago for the seclusion afforded by his native hills, was in town one day this week and staid long enough to predict the triumphant election of his friend Boyd.

More About the $5,000 Fee.

Attention has been attracted to a new law passed by the last Legislature that, it is believed, invalidates the appropriation made to the attorneys who were employed by the Court of Claims to defend the O. V. subscription.

Early in January the Legislature passed an act amending the statutes and providing that the Court of Claims shall have no power to make appropriations of more than $50 unless a majority of all of the justices vote for it and the ayes and nays shall be entered in the minutes.

This act had become a law when the Court of Claims met some months later and of course the court had no power to appropriate $50 without the concurrence of a majority of the 34 magistrates.

The vote by which the fee was allowed stood 15 for and 11 against.

Eighteen votes would have been necessary then and should the question be re-posed 19 will now be required, as there are 36 justices now in the court.

It is unfortunate that the matter is to be re-posed again, but that seems to be the only thing to be done, unless there is some mistake about the hearing the new law will have on the case.

The sheriff has never paid the money as he has not had the requisite amount on hand until the $4,000 installment of the county defalcation was discharged a few days ago.

He has now paid it until all doubts are removed.

There are many white soaps, each represented to be "just as good as the Ivory." They are not, but like all counterfeits, they lack the peculiar and remarkable qualities of the genuine. Ask for Ivory Soap and insist upon having it. 'Tis sold everywhere.
